The St. John's church annual garden party will be held on the rectory grounds, Ontario St., Wednesday evening, July 19. A supper will be served by the women of the church and games, prizes and entertainment will be sponsored in the evening.

Fred S. Thompson New Governor For District Lions

Fred S. Thompson, Newmarket, was made district governor at the Lions convention, Gravenhurst, June 24 to 28. Mr. Thompson, who has been secretary and president of the Newmarket club, has also been district deputy governor.

Over 1,000 Lions gathered at the 30th annual convention for Ontario and Quebec clubs. Newmarket is located in district A7 of which Mr. Thompson is the new district governor.

Delegates to the convention from Newmarket were Lions Art Evans, president, Ang West, Eugene McCaffrey, Percy Hutchinson, J. B. Bastedo, Frank Courtney, Tom Doyle, Alex. Georges and Chester Best.

The Lions are currently engaged in preparations for their annual two-day carnival and dance on August 16 and 17. Tickets are being sold by members of the club on a new car. In a departure from the usual practice, the number of tickets is limited to 1,000 and an effort is being made to restrict sales to Newmarket and district.

The carnival on the first night will be held as usual in Lions park and will feature a midway, games, bingo and special attractions for the children.

The dance, instead of being held on Main St. the following night, will be held in the Newmarket arena in conjunction with the opening night of the Newmarket Horticultural Society's

FRED S. THOMPSON

Merchants' Exhibition and gladiolus show.

The chances are that the dance will be the first event held in the Newmarket arena after the new floor has been put in. Work has already started on the removal of the sand from the arena in preparation to the laying of the new floor.

Merchants exhibit, Gladiolus Show, First arena event

The Newmarket Horticultural Society will again sponsor an exhibition by Newmarket merchants at its annual gladiolus show. Twelve merchants are showing their wares this year, double the number of last year when the exhibition was initiated.

Chairman of the committee responsible for the exhibits is Eugene McCaffrey. Showing their merchandise are Geer and Byers, Marigold Gift Shoppe, Yates Jewellers, Singer Sewing Machine, Morrison's Men's Wear, Ang West, Eves Ladies' Wear, Boyd and McMath, Newmarket District Co-Op, Stewart Beare and Dyer's Furniture.

The exhibition will last three nights and will be held in Newmarket arena. It is expected that the new floor will be laid by opening day of the show, Thursday, Aug. 17. The Newmarket Lions club is holding its annual summer dance on that night and the two events, the dance and the exhibition, will be combined.

The exhibition will continue the following Friday night and on Saturday, the annual gladiolus show will be open to the public, afternoon and evening.

Last year, when the exhibition of art work by Mr. Frederick Hagan and craft exhibit of Mrs. M. Mather were added to exhibits by six Newmarket merchants and combined as an added attraction to the annual gladiolus show, a start in the revival of Newmarket's fair was seen.

With a larger list of exhibits and the anticipated larger entry in the gladiolus show, it is expected that the way is gradually being paved for larger shows in the future.

Work of Art Contest winners Displayed at peony show

An art contest was sponsored by the Newmarket Horticultural Society in the grade 1 to 7 classes of the elementary schools in Newmarket. The topics for the work were to be horticultural in nature and the two winners from each class had their work displayed at the society's peony show on June 24.

Prizes of equal value, books on birds, trees and flowers were awarded to each of the two winners from every class making a total of 58 prizes donated by the society in all.

The winners were: Alexander Muir school, grade 1, Janet Macnab and Peggy Gibson; grade 2, Dennis Edwards and Edgar Flidey; grade 3, Bruce Hillaby and Robert Palmateer; grade 4, Juanita Smith and George Robertson; grade 5, Hoyden Wood and Burton Smith; grade 6, Martha Carr and Philip Boynton; grade 7, Margaret Winter and Raymond Carr.

Remodelling progresses At Aurora Armories

Extensive alterations are well under way at the Aurora armories by the Canadian Commercial Corporation. At present new foundations are installed. Alteration expenditures will be from $35,000 to $45,000. The contract for building alterations was awarded last May to Roy Koffer, Newmarket.

An armor plated metallic flooring will be put down; the armories can also be used as a sports centre. A new officers' mess and sergeants' mess will be included, also a new hot water heating system.

FORMER MAYOR ON THE STAGE AT RED BARN

Once the mayor of Newmarket's teen town, John Moreland is now a member of the Red Barn Theatre company. In the first show, "Crazy With The Heat," John is seen in Seven Days With Pay, It's A Boy, This is an Advert, Pufferin Drive-In, The Dying Cowboy, Giddy Ap, Crazy With The Heat, and Back To The Shack. This is his first show, and comes at the end of months of hard work, training to step up on the professional stage.

John Moreland was a student at Pickering College for three years, graduating in 1949. During that time, he was probably better known by younger townspeople his own age than any other member of Pickering College. It was partly through his efforts towards a Pickering-Newmarket association, that the dances at Pickering and Newmarket High School came into being.

John's family background led him to the theatre. Both mother and sister have climbed to heights of fame and it was not breaking away in any sense, when John turned down further formal education for theatrical training. Even while at high school he showed his desire to entertain. At the College, he was always called upon when student spirits were low. Along the halls his never ending supply of gags and songs chased away many cases of pre-examination neurosis.

Many of his old Newmarket friends will see John this summer at the Red Barn revues. Those who knew him a year ago, "Ain't seen nothing yet."

Tour of Simcoe gardens To help hospital fund

A tour of the gardens of Mrs. R. C. Kilgour, Mrs. Edmund Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Laidlaw, Mrs. J. B. MacKinnon and Mrs. Arnold Matthews at Roche's Point, Lake Simcoe, will be held on Saturday, July 8, from 1.30 to 5 p.m.

All these properties extend to the lake and each garden has its own points of interest. Mrs. Matthews' garden has a lovely herbaceous border and the lawns and trees of Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw's are particularly fine.

Those interested in transportation to the lake are requested to contact Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, phone 466.

The garden tour is being sponsored by the York County Hospital Ladies' Aid and Roche's Point Memorial club. Tickets are available from Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey or at the gardens themselves on Saturday.

Tea will be served at the Memorial hall, Roche's Point, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Grant Morton writes First prize essay

Grant Morton, Stuart Scott school, won the wild flower conservation essay contest sponsored in town by the Newmarket Horticultural Society. The contest which was open to the pupils in the town's grade 8 classes aroused keen competition and interest.

This is the third consecutive year that the society has sponsored the contest. Grant's essay has been forwarded to the province-wide competition. Fifteen dollars in prize money, donated by the Office Specialty Co. Ltd. has been distributed to the writers of the three best essays in each school.

Winners in the local competition were: Alexander Muir school, Barbara Burbridge, Billy Arkinstall and Jean Harkness; St. John's school, Bobby Doyle, Patricia Quinn and Johnny Giovanni; Stuart Scott school, Grant Morton, Marion Gibson and Gerry Duffield.

Mr. W. L. Kidd acted as final judge in the competition. The juvenile program for the society is convened by Mrs. Anton.

RESIDENCE SOLD

Mr. E. F. Streeter announced the sale of his residence and property south of Pickering College last week to Maj. T. M. Ewing. Mr. and Mrs. Streeter lived in the large residence south of the town limits for many years before they moved to their present home at 37 Second St.

Maj. Ewing and family lived at the Streeter residence for two years after they first moved to Newmarket.

George W. Robitaille is shown in a picture taken three years ago with his two dogs, Patsy and Paddy. He has lived in Newmarket for 45 years. On Tuesday, July 4, he was 90 years old and he is still active. He continues to work with British Ontario Motors garage on Water St., started to work there when the garage was first opened by Ken Robinson.

ONETIME PITCHER

George Robitaille, 90 Still works at garage

George Washington Robitaille has probably put more gas in Newmarket automobiles than anybody in town. On Tuesday, July 4, George reached his 90th birthday and he is still around the garage and service station, now Ontario Motors, Water St. The business has changed ownership many times since he started working there.

Mr. Robitaille was born at Selkirk, Ontario, in 1860. He farmed near Selkirk until he was 20, then opened a bicycle business in Hagersville with his brother-in-law. He came to Newmarket 45 years ago, worked at the Office Specialty Mfg. Co. for three years before he and Walter Collins of Newmarket started a contracting business. They worked together for about five years.

Ever since Ken Robinson opened a garage at 6 Water St., Mr. Robitaille has worked there. He also operated the Newmarket arena for a period of 12 years. He has always been an ardent sportsman, for many years an enthusiastic curler, bowler, baseball pitcher, fisherman, and an ardent hunter. He was pitcher for several years in the old days for the Selkirk baseball team.

Mr. Robitaille once related how he acquired his middle name. He was called George Robitaille when he was a boy until a sheep drover called Seth Graves from Buffalo took a fancy to him. The drover offered him 25 cents if he would take on Washington as a middle name. The deal was made and the name stuck.

George Robitaille holds the Hon. E. J. Davis cup presented to the Newmarket Curling Club in 1901. He was the last winner of the cup in 1917.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hill and son, Wayne, Bensenville, are visiting relatives in Newmarket and Gormley this week and next week.

AURORA COUNCIL SETS RECORD OF BREVITY

Setting an all time record for brevity Aurora Town Council adjourned at 10 p.m., Monday. Usually in session until midnight, members of council cleared up the correspondence and accepted two committee reports without much discussion.

The York County Health Unit asked for a quarter of the 1950 allotment to be paid by July 1. Council decided to vote half of its yearly quota amounting to $577.88.

Reeve A. A. Cook said that at a meeting of the Fire and Water Works Committee it was recommended that in future three-quarter inch pipe be demanded for service to all new residences. He also said that the extension of water service to the town limits on Wellington St. was being investigated.

Fire Chief Harry Jones asked that the tenders for the new fire truck be hurried up. He was assured by Reeve A. A. Cook, chairman of the Fire Committee, that the matter would be looked after at once.

Councillor Don Glass brought in a motion that a new site for a free municipal parking lot be given immediate consideration, preferably the purchase of property as close to the business district as possible. The motion was seconded by Councillor Jones and passed by council.

The offer of a foundation from the high school property was accepted from the high school board. The stones will be used to hold fill on Mills and Mark Sts. and to fill the gully on Royal Road.

At the request of Harry Squibb who has had the status of a temporary employee of the Works Department, council passed a motion that he be taken on full strength at a rate of 70 cents per hour plus the present cost of living bonus.

Take soil survey Of York County

The department of agriculture has announced that a general soil survey is being conducted in York county at the present time. Two men from the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, are now working in Vaughan township and it is expected they will be in York for the remainder of the summer.

Since their work is a survey of the various soil types and not a fertility analysis, they operate from the roadsides and will not be calling in at the farm houses. Thus the farmers of York county are asked to cooperate with these men and to not be alarmed when the soil survey party climbs over the fence on their routine work.

It has been almost ten years since a similar survey has been conducted in the county and the ultimate result will be the publication of a report on the "Soil Survey of York County" including a new soil map and recommendations on the most suitable use for the soils of the district.

Car hits bird in U.S., Banded in Aurora, 1946

A. W. Skilleter, Richmond Hill, who reported a banded bird which flew into the grill of his car a year ago while he was motoring through the state of Washington, has just received an interesting report from the Department of Interior Travel, Maryland, U.S.A.

The band No. 41-2288904 proved the bird was a robin that had been banded at Aurora in 1946. Three years later, hundreds of miles away, the robin was killed by a car driven by the Richmond Hill resident.

John Hanna trophy Won by Newmarket team

Two Newmarket bowlers brought honors from Wingham last week returning as winners of the John Hanna trophy in the troubles competitions.

After six years of attempts to obtain the trophy (Doug Brown and Andrew Mordison came second three years ago), the trophy was taken this year by Dr. C. H. Brereton and Andrew Mordison, with a score of plus 27. Prizes were valued at $25 each. There were 40 entries from towns in various parts of the province.

—Mr. Don James and a friend from Windsor spent Dominion Day with Mrs. A. E. Starr.

York health unit Accepts location, Town to buy site

The new York County Health Unit has accepted an offer from the town of Newmarket for headquarters accommodation in the Webb home. At a meeting last night the health unit board decided to rent the building at $150 a month from the town. Although the town council has not purchased the building yet, the health unit has been assured that the building will be purchased. Council decided last week to pay $16,800 for the building.

The unit has asked each of the 11 member municipalities for three-quarters of a mill on its assessment for 1950. The board hopes to operate on a basis of one mill in the 12 months of 1951.

One of the members of the board said last night that he hoped the municipalities would understand the pressing need for funds in establishing the unit. The three-quarters of a mill basis for the remaining six months in 1950 is higher than the eventual basis for operating the unit because of the cost of establishing the service, buying new equipment and other initial needs.

The health unit at present is using temporary headquarters at the former public health office on Botsford St. The present staff consists of Dr. R. M. King, the unit medical health officer, Mrs. Jean Rhoten, Aurora, superintendent of nurses, R. A. Craig, chief sanitary inspector, and four nurses: Barbara Wills, Toronto, Betty Topper, Richmond Hill, Ann Marie Quigley, Toronto, and Miss G. Walker. Six nurses will eventually be required, also another sanitary inspector. There are to be seven branch offices throughout the municipalities in the north end of the county.

First in Newmarket, Auto show next week

Newmarket is going to have its first automobile show next weekend when British-Ontario Motors will show English automobiles. The show will be held in the firm's showrooms on Water St. on July 13, 14 and 15.

Included will be the Rolls Royce and the Jaguar, holder of the speed record for stock cars of 132 miles per hour, as well as other representative cars of English manufacture and design. "Total value of the cars on display exceeds $35,000," says John Gamble, Newmarket branch manager.

make up the clerical staff at the health unit headquarters here.

Dr. King comes from Orillia where he was with the Simcoe county health unit. He graduated from the University of Toronto in medicine in 1944. He is married with two children and recently moved to his residence at 89 Park Ave. Mr. Craig moved to Newmarket this week to an apartment above Spillite's store.

Sewage disposal Plant Discussed With A. E. Berry

An outline of requirements for undertaking a sewage disposal plant for Newmarket was given a committee of Newmarket town council on Tuesday night by Dr. A. E. Berry, deputy minister of health for Ontario. Non-committee members of council were also invited to attend.

Dr. Berry gave the committee a report on the analysis of the Holland River, told how to go about the construction of a disposal plant and advised on the financing of it.

Council has been under pressure from residents along the river north of town to cease dumping untreated sewage. Several delegations have appeared before council in past years asking early action. Consideration of a disposal plant has generally been expected by council this year.

Additionally, the provincial government announced some months ago that an effort would be made by the government to bring an end to the dumping of municipalities of raw sewage into lakes and rivers. Premier

ROOM FOR TEN MORE GIRLS

There is room for ten more girls ages 12, 13, 14 at North York Intermediate Camp July 19-20. Financial help is available. For further information contact Rev. Henry Cotton or Betty Brammer, Era and Express. Junior girls leave Trinity United church, Newmarket, for Camp Ahnagong Monday, July 10, at 8.30 p.m. They must apply immediately, however.

Frost made a lengthy statement on the subject which was included in provincial government policy.

The situation on the Holland River was greatly aggravated last summer by the prolonged drought which dried the river to a trickle in some places.

Racing models of secret design Testing for Legion Derby night

Several new racing models of secret design, some with the swept-back flowing 1950 fashion, others with the more conservative continental appearance have been seen around Newmarket. Test runs are being made. They will enter the second annual Soap Box Derby sponsored by the Canadian Legion on Wednesday, July 26.

The racing rules call for a wheel rim diameter of 12 inches or less with the weight of the vehicle 90 lbs. or less. The racer must be built by the boy entering it in the derby and entries should be sent to T. M. Ewing, P.O. Box 302, Newmarket. The entry closing date is July 24. All entries are to be assembled in front of the arena at 8 p.m. July 26. Starting time is 8.30 p.m. at the Fire Hall on Main St. and the finish line will be at Timothy St. There will be several heats in the derby.

Derby prizes will be presented at the conclusion of the derby. All boys from 10 to 15 years of age are invited to enter. Prizes include Optimist Club trophies. First prize is a cup and $10, second prize a cup and $5, third prize a cup and $3 and in addition a prize of $3 will be given for the entry with the best appearance. There will be several new features in connection with the Legion Carnival this year. Some lucky boys or girls may be enriched in the "lucky person" game. A silver dollar will be given to anyone who tells the right person that "Tonight is the Legion Carnival." One person a citizen of Newmarket but not a Legion member, will be on Main St. morning and afternoon and at the carnival in the evening. If he is asked the question, he will "fork over" a silver dollar, without any persuasion. A street dance will also be held on Park Ave. Bill Laprade, chairman of the Legion carnival committee, says that preparations are being completed and that there is a promise of "lots of fun, lots of games, lots of valuable prizes."

Miss Ducren Ash is holidaying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ash.

Congratulations to all the high school students who passed their exams.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Brown and Roy and Mr. Don Mason, Toronto, had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Ash and family.

Members of the Pine Orchard W.I. will meet at Mr. Chapman's corner at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, July 12, to motor to Sharon Park and visit the Temple. Rail call; what impressed me most as I went through the Temple, Contest by Mrs. J. Hope.

Congratulations to Jim Link on passing high school entrance.

Earthworms are cultivated in a New York zoo to feed the duck-billed platypuses.
U.S.A. and Canada are setting up a weather station 500 miles from the North Pole.

It just isn't any use trying to get away from flowers, and write on other subjects with all the beautiful flowers, wild and cultivated, around us everywhere. Did you ever think of the succession of bloom, how we can have flowers from early spring till the snow flies in October? How we gloat over the first little snow-drops and crocus, coming up out of the bare earth, before the grass even has turned green. Then almost at once we see the little blue scilla, that we call the blue-bell and the grapehyacinth with its purple-blue tiny bells all up the stalk. Then before we know it, the rock-plants are a mass of bloom, you know them, so I'll not go into raptures over them, and the cute hen-and-chickens, snow-summer, and all the rest. Such a "mass of bloom" is the only way to describe them for they completely hide the rocks in our rockeries.

Then before we are aware of it, the daffodils (Daffy-downdilly) and the narcissus and the hyacinths are with us, then the tulips, and the lily-of-the-valley, so loved by everybody. Then the forget-me-nots with their dainty sky-blue flowers, and the beloved pansies. Always on Remembrance Day, tiny little containers filled with forget-me-nots are placed at the foot of the small memorial crosses in the Veterans' Plot up in the cemetery, marking a spot of remembrance for each Newmarket soldier who never returned from Wars I and II.

But I know I can't keep on this way, for flowers come on in such rapid succession, how can we keep up with them? May and June are wonderful months!
The Forsythia bushes that are covered completely with yellow bells before the leaves appear—oh and what about the pussywillow, I forgot that, and it is one of the first, and the tender bleeding-heart, the heart that, when you pull it apart, makes a complete pair of tiny "lady slippers." Each garden flower has its counterpart in the wild flower creation. There is wild
"lady slippers" which some call
"Dutchman's breeches"—there is the wild mignonette, and the Jack-in-the-pulpit to match our monk's-hood.

When I was writing about wild flowers the other week, I should have mentioned the pretty, sweet-smelling May Flower—just at the moment I can't recall its real name (is it the Mandrake?), but it is a pretty, waxy cup-shaped flower growing close to the stem under the leaves which all grow in a whorl at the top of the stalk, and later on the flower turns to what we used to call the May apple.

Oh dear me, so many, many flowers come into my mind, and drive out the main idea which was the succession of bloom all along the spring and summer season. I'd fill a book to properly exhaust that subject but I will name a few more of our best-loved perennials and our annuals. For instance, what about the wild-wood columbine which we call Aquilegia in our gardens. I used to find them every spring at Peter Pearson's corners in a little grove there when we went farther along Second St. to a woods literally covered with trilliums, the Wake-Robin, and later with Queen Anne's Lace, called wild carrot in the botany. We love our popular names for our wild flowers, like ox-eyed daisies for Marguerites, and old-maid's bon-nets for the wild lupins.

Well, here I am side-tracked again where was I—oh yes
the columbines, were flowering, let me see—I guess Sweet Williams come next, and sweet rocket, it is called Hesperis, isn't that a lovely beautiful name for a lovely flower that comes early, too, following the Pulmon-aria. Then the Dianthus pinks, cottage pinks—they must be renewed every few years or they will die out.

Then comes the Iris and the Oriental Poppy and the Canterbury Bell, looking like a cup-and-saucer. We do not see the fragrant bellflower so much nowadays, I wonder why?

Then we come to the peonies, and I'd better end up for if I start on the roses and the hollyhocks—the verbenas and asters (Chiny asters, as the little old lady who used to give me flowers when I was a tiny girl, called them). China asters and torch lilies, our red-hot-poker.

Oh I haven't told one-half of the lovely flowers in bloom up to now—the bridal wreath, the syringa (orange blossom) and what about the lilacs? I'll stop while I can or I'll be writing altogether too much for one

Newmarket, England

By C. F. JEFFERY
Editor, Newmarket Journal

Although five years have passed since the war, there are recurring incidents to keep memories of the conflict fresh in our minds. For instance, the two local district councils spend hours and hours on the housing problem and its pathetic consequences. Within a stone's throw from where these lines are being written, there are buildings which pass under the name of cottages, but which would have certainly been demolished years ago had it not been for the lack of housing for their occupants.

The plaster has fallen away from the lath walls on the outside and one can only surmise that the occupants have some interior way of keeping-out the weather. The worst of the cottages has been demolished but it is a painfully slow process as is that of building new homes.

Councillors talk hopefully of a new housing scheme but within a few weeks are bringing up the all too familiar reasons for delay—shortage of labor, shortage of a certain material, etc.

Although a big new estate has been built here since the war on former stud farm land, and a very good job has been made of it, there is still an active list in Newmarket of 500 families requiring homes. A start has been made on a new estate, again on stud farm land, but that will only touch the fringe of the demand.
Large houses have been converted into apartments as another measure to ease the strain.

Newmarket is not short of open spaces where houses could be built, but the open spaces of Newmarket are equivalent to the factories of Birmingham. How can horses be bred and trained except in open spaces and it is the horses that keep Newmarket going.

Forces Fund
There has been a significant happening this week with a direct bearing on the war. During the war, the Newmarket Forces Fund was started and we aimed high, setting a target of 25,000 pounds to assist those servicemen and women and their dependents who suffered financially, physically or mentally as a result of war service. Every source of income was tapped and every effort made to raise the money, and the objective was reached. Over 17,000 pounds of the fund has been disbursed in giving assistance in all sorts of ways and cases still occur, particularly as some of the men who tasted the rigors of life in a Japanese prison camp are beginning to show the strain. The Cambs.
Regiment, in which many local men were serving, had the mortification of being landed at Singapore and being taken prisoners almost immediately.

One of the activities of the fund has been to invest 200 pounds for each child whose father was killed. This sum is handed over to the boy or girl reaching 21 and the first award was made this week at a simple but impressive ceremony. As it came on the eve of the young lady's wedding, it was an appreciated gift.

Hit and Run Raid

Newmarket did not escape active participation in the horrors of war. One bleak Tuesday afternoon in February, 1941, it being market day, the wide High St. was thronged with people and market stalls. Suddenly the siren sent out its hideous warning but it is had become an every day (and every night) affair, apart from those going to active stations, little notice was taken.

Then we saw a machine of unusual design approaching and the smoke from the stream of tracer told us more than we wanted to know. The bombs were dropped, all of them along one side of High St., causing a death toll of 20 and 100 injured. The chaos was increased by the post office receiving a direct hit, putting all telephones out of action. Apart from two or three temporary phones working the next day, the town was off the line for six weeks.

Looking back, it is amazing how the town improvised and recovered. Even now, the battle scars remain and the post office is still housed in the local public hall while a short distance away, a new post office is gradually taking shape. The Sunday after the raid, the debris was covered with snow and hundreds of sightseers visited the town to see the damage. In that brief hit and run raid, Newmarket had a casualty list in proportion as great as London's.

At that time, we were organizing a Spitfire Fund to raise 5,000 pounds. If memory serves me, the people of your own Newmarket contributed to it. Anyway, the feelings of the residents were evident by the sharp increase in the rate of subscription.

Invitation to Visit
To end on a brighter note, several towns have invited residents of towns with similar names in various parts of the world to visit them during the Festival of Britain next year.
There are several Newmarkets in the world and although no official word move has been made locally, the hint has been dropped in our editorial columns that this Newmarket should adopt the same idea. If any of your Newmarket residents are thinking of a trip, I hope they will not hesitate to contact us.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

While down at Windsor, we fell in with the editor of the Chapleau Post, Mr. Arthur Simpson, an engaging man well on in years but possessing the vigor of one half his age. Mr. Simpson had been an active choir leader in his day and his reminiscences about that experience brought up the name of Streeter.

Did we know, he asked, a Frank Streeter in Newmarket? We did. And would we pass on a message of greeting. We would. Frank was a greater choir man too, he told us.

We saw Mr. Streeter the other day and passed on the message. "I knew Arthur in Hamilton," he said. "A fine man." Mr. Streeter filled in some of Mr. Simpson's background which left us with an enhanced respect for the Chapleau editor. He's not without a flair for newspapering either. A week or so after we returned, we received a copy of the Chapleau Post announcing in a headline in three languages that the Trans-Canada highway had gone through. Chapleau, on Lake Superior, is on the highway route and expects quite a boom from it.

Mr. Cecil Jarvis phoned us a few weeks ago about the newsletter from England's Newmarket which appeared last month. "My folks came from near Newmarket, England," he told us. During the war, Mr. Jarvis had visited Newmarket and in a church in the hamlet of Burwell, near Newmarket, he found records of his family dating back to the 16th century. He mentioned two or three other points near Newmarket which had associations for the Jarvis family and we found several references to them in current number of the Newmarket Journal.

We ventured into the gourmet's realm on Saturday night and a most satisfying trip it was. Friends of ours, the Kudelkas on the second of King, brought in a Hungarian dish by the name of "korozott". It had been made by Mr. Kudelka's mother.

Here's the recipe: add paprika, a touch of salt, prepared mustard, caraway seeds and onions finely chopped to cottage cheese. Mould it, garnish with green pepper slices, radishes and olives, let it set a couple of hours so the flavors have an opportunity to blend, and serve cool. It's a lovely dish.

We are told that a teaspoonful of anchovy paste elevates the dish to the level of ambrosia. We thought it ambrosia without the paste.

And on the subject of food, try a raw meat sandwich on rye bread. Take lean sirloin, run it through the grinder a couple of times and spread it on heavily buttered rye bread. Salt and pepper to taste and add a couple of slices of raw onion.

We've one suggestion about the latter dish. Serve it first and then tell your guests what it is. If they know it is raw meat nine times out of ten, they won't touch it. Tell them after they've eaten several sandwiches and by that time, they're so completely sold on the dish it doesn't matter.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

JULY 3, 1925

Between seven and eight thousand people attended the Dominion Day celebrations at the fair grounds in Newmarket. The Citizens' Band, under the direction of Mr. Paul Altitt, provided music throughout the day. In the baseball game, Aurora won the Office Specialty cup by a score of 9-8. A parade preceded the afternoon events of horse racing, horse show and athletic events. In the evening a band concert and dance was held downtown.

A family gathering was held at the home of Miss Velma Widdifield recently. About 70 attended.

Mrs. Gordon Walker and daughter, Dorothy, London, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, Vander. Dorothy was the flower girl at the marriage of her aunt, Miss Margaret Walker.

Fairly good market last Saturday. Lots of butter, eggs, vegetables and home-grown strawberries. Butter sold at 30, 32 and some at 35 cents a lb., eggs were 30 to 32 cents a doz. Strawberries were selling at 15 cents a box or two for 25 cents. Mushrooms 75 cents a lb., onions 5 cents a bunch, or six for 25 cents, lettuce 5 cents a bunch.

Mrs. Winch has returned to Mount Albert from the west where she spent the winter. She was accompanied by Mrs. Will Haigh and Miss Evelyn Ross, who are visiting friends.

Miss Bertha Neilly attended the Neilly reunion picnic at Killarney Beach, Lake Simcoe, on July 1. Over 150 were present.

A meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the United church, Schomberg, recently and officers elected were pres., Mrs. (Rev.) Haig; vice-pres., Mrs. (Dr.) Kay; Mrs. A. Lloyd; treas., Mrs. Hart; sec., Mrs. B. Skinner.

Mrs. E. C. Hall, Newmarket, and Mrs. Arthur Prosser, Little Britain, left on Monday for Imperial, Sask., to visit their sister, Mrs. Rodman, Dr. O. M. Hall, and other friends for a couple of months.

JULY 6, 1900

Dr. Sephronia Cook and daughter, Toledo, Ohio, are visiting her sister, Mrs. N. Fierheller, for two months. Mrs. Cook has been practising for six years. Her husband, Dr. F. S. W. Cook, sent over a piece of music for the town band of which he was a member for a number of years. It is entitled "Toledo Light Guard" and was composed by his son-in-law, W. F. Radbone. It is very popular in Toledo and the Newmarket band will have the honor of introducing it into Canada.

Miss Ethel Perkins has returned as a nurse to the sanatorium at Clifton Springs, N.Y., after spending two weeks at home.

There was a good market last Saturday, prices had a tendency to rise. Butter sold rapidly at 15 and 16 cents and eggs at 11 and 12 cents. Lard sold at 9 cents a lb. Potatoes were 25 and 30 cents a bag, green peas made their first appearance and sold in the pod at 25 cents a peck. Cabbage was 5 to 8 cents a qt.

Among those at the picnic on Monday who were renewing old acquaintances was Mr. Eli Spencer, a well-known tailor in Newmarket who left 13 years ago, and his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Hamill, Tottenham, the former Kate Spencer.

Miss Clara Lundy left yesterday to enter Toronto General hospital as a nurse.

The annual garden party of the Presbyterian church, Mount Albert, held on Thos. Watts' lawn, Centre Road, Monday evening, was a success. County councillor C. E. Lundy, acted as chairman. Speeches were given by Messrs. Hopkins, Moore and Tinsdale.

Miss Edith Spring, Hamilton, gave a violin solo, Miss Silver, vocal solo, and duets by Miss Elliott and Miss Silver. Net proceeds were $300.

Mr. Bert Hillborn, Kettleby, was again successful in winning the five-mile bicycle race held at Aurora on Dominion Day and he received a silver cup.

Dollars for Newmarket

Thousands of cars travelled bumper to bumper up Yonge St. over the weekend. Far into the night, their headlights illuminated the highway. Many of them turned east at Eagle St. and passed through Newmarket on their way to the south-east shores of Lake Simcoe. The summer rush of tourists and vacationists has begun and it will continue until Labor Day. Those thousands of cars represent thousands of dollars of business for businessmen and communities with the initiative to attract it. Newmarket businessmen could, if they made the necessary effort, earn their share of that business.

Few Newmarket businessmen realize how close Newmarket is to becoming a resort town. Newmarket is not in the centre of a tourist and vacation area but it is located within a mile of one of the busiest highways in Ontario and the route to Lake Simcoe passes right through it. Newmarket is the largest shopping centre north of Toronto and south of Barrie. It could offer attractive facilities to the tourist or vacationist, if they could be encouraged to stop.

An immediate step in that direction would be the erection of signs on all approaches to Newmarket, telling the traveller about the town, its industries, its shopping district, something of its history, the location of its public parks and rest rooms, the availability of parking space. Most of the travellers on Yonge St. are not even aware they are passing Newmarket. Those who drive through Newmarket have only the glimpses of it from car windows to persuade them Newmarket is not just "another country town".

A second step could be the establishment of an information booth. The majority of U.S. tourists in Canada come to this country to sight-see. They are eager for information, for souvenirs of their travels. To the best of our knowledge, there is nothing on Yonge St. which remotely resembles an information booth. This service, established on Yonge St. at Eagle St. or Davis Dr., would return its cost many times over in tourist business diverted to Newmarket.

Equally important but requiring a more sustained effort is the development of historical sites about Newmarket. History has left this district a wonderful legacy of old associations. Right at the corner is the Friends Meeting House. North of Newmarket is Sharon Temple and at Holland Landing is ground rich in the early history of this province. As they exist now, there is little to attract the American tourist, but if care were taken to develop these sites as tourist attractions, they would become a rich investment.

The vacation trade is a highly competitive business. But when Newmarket is so endowed by location and the advantages of history and shopping facilities, there is every opportunity for success in earning its share of summer dollars—if those who have the most to gain will put forth the necessary effort.

So, we'll try again

Off and on through the years, we have gone on fishing trips without ever hooking a real fish. Minnows and sunfish, yes. Even the odd catfish and we offer no offense to lovers of catfish meal. But even they will agree there is no great excitement in hauling in the ugly creatures and it takes a lot of effort and time to unhook them when they are caught.

No, for all the effort and early morning hopes, we have never caught a trout or bass or musky or pike that was over the legal limit. We have forewarned the sport in our disappointment but hope rises eternal, so they say, and so we are off on the weekend with a determination to catch a fish, even if we have to drain Georgian Bay to do it.

But all this sounds too familiar to be really convincing. We can recall the same determination in other years: the early morning awakening, the drive for hours in the dawn on the theory that the farther north we went the more likely we were to catch a fish, the empty handed return and the sight of our neighbor, who had risen hours after us, driven a quarter of the distance, returning with a basket of finny beauties.

Well, we'll try it once more and hope for at least one which gets away but had the displacement, approximately, of a small whale.

'Fallen by its own weight'

Mr. Lewis Mumford, noted town planning expert in the United States, has a few things to say about big cities which make interesting reading against the background of Toronto's plans to amalgamate its suburbs. Speaking before the 82nd annual convention of the American Institute of Architects in Washington, he said, as reported in the New York Times:

"Architects and government officials who must chart the growth and redevelopment of American cities (must) accept a new concept of planning to bring about a type of community in which the residents will be happy to live and work . . . the age of the big city is over."

"... further efforts to expand metropolitan centres are doomed to failure and merely would add to the costly congestion and complexities of life within them."

"In the place of the concentrated masses of steel and stone, there must be developed broad regions consisting of clusters of neighboring, but separate small towns. All would retain the amenities and advantages of small communities, but would be capable, through co-operative action, of providing the facilities and natural attractions heretofore associated only with large and wealthy cities."

"The ideal size for these individual towns within the integrated region? Somewhere between 20,000 and 50,000. Each community, however, would retain its identity and character but would be set apart from the others and limited in size by a permanent intervening green belt."

"The metropolitan regime has fallen by its own weight, although the monuments to its folly and arrogance may long remain in existence."

Choice of expediency

After deciding in favor of the town hall as the location for the health unit, the Newmarket town council last week reversed itself and proposed again that the Webb house be purchased for that purpose. This inconsistency was justified, for all but two council members, by new advantages of price and other factors not known when the proposal was originally rejected.

Probably the town will make a more mutually satisfying arrangement with the health unit on the choice of the Webb house than they could on the choice of the town hall. But in either choice, the same objection could be raised: that council in its effort to house the health unit to everyone's satisfaction has been ruled by questions of expediency rather than by considerations of how either the town hall location or the Webb house location will fit the pattern of growth in Newmarket.

Newmarket in the coming years is going to expand far beyond anything the town has experienced before. The shape of the town is going to be altered so that oldtimers will have difficulty remembering how it looked in the old days. In the face of the inevitable problems of such development, it seems only reasonable that the town undertake to plan for the future, to anticipate the problems which lie ahead and to prepare for their solution as they arise.

The choice of the Webb house as a location for the health unit may or may not be a happy one years hence, but it is fairly certain that no one on the council can say for sure which it will be. Occupied with problems of finding immediate accommodation, members of council are hardly in a position to study the long range view. But this is not the exception; it has been the practice for years and it has left the town with a legacy of problems which have retarded development and cost the taxpayers expenditures which could have been avoided. What more obvious example is there than the narrowness of Main St. Time and time again, the councils of the past have had opportunities to begin the widening of the Main St. by pushing back the street line when old buildings were destroyed by fire or time and new ones erected in their place.

Newmarket can, if its council will, employ the services of advisors on town development and from them, receive expert assistance in planning for a less troublesome future. The employment of town planners in no way reflects upon the council's abilities nor will it infringe upon their authority. Town planning is, however, a highly specialized business. The council remains the authority upon municipal policy but its members can hardly claim to speak with complete authority if they act in ignorance of the difficulties which lie ahead, difficulties which could be revealed to them by experts.

"A Toronto group is seeking fossils," says a city paper. "A party under Dr. Loris S. Russell, Royal Ontario Museum, is in Wyoming searching for million year-old fossil mammals. The expedition hopes to find traces of mammals belonging to the tertiary period."

"The area being searched in Wyoming is an established locality for the aged but elusive mammals," states the publication. It is interesting to think of a group of fossil seekers from Toronto chasing after "aged but elusive mammals" who peek out between trees and then run and hide.

But we all know that million-year-old mammals would not be living yet. Of course not! We all know they lived in the tertiary period, don't we?

(The tertiary period is a lapse of geological time which started 60 million years ago, includes the Eocene, Oligocene, Miocene and Pliocene epochs. In the Pliocene epoch, of the tertiary period of the Cenozoic era, was the first appearance of man. Heidelberg man, Neanderthal man and Cro-Magnon man appeared, respectively.)

Cats, of course, take pride in a more ancient lineage. While man dates back a little over two million years ago, our sabre-toothed ancestors first started kicking the gong around 38 million years ago.

Granted, we never drew pictures on the walls of caves but we certainly scared hell out of every Neanderthal which got in our way. We simply ate him.

It is only in the latter part of the Holocene epoch that the true cats have become journalists.

Will shorts be any longer? As one plaintive voice crying out in an inhibited Canadian society of bans and by-laws, I say let shorts be shorts. Our policy here is laissez-faire. Besides, they're cooler.

There has been much contemplation in many communities whether ladies will be allowed to wear their shorts on the streets or not. From Ottawa a press release picture shows a constable measuring the length of a charming girl's shorts while a seasoned city father strokes his chin and wonders.

But what is he wondering? Your favorite cat correspondent has been attempting to get to the bottom of this anti-shorts kind of thinking—without success. This correspondent has tried logic, psychoanalysis, hocus pocus and a ouija board. Results are poor.

In an interview with a stalwart citizen who thinks, we asked, "Why should not the pretty ladies wear shorts at will in summer?"

"Taint decent," he said.

"Why taint it decent?" we asked.

"Cause taint. It's immortal."

"Oh, why is it immortal?"

"Its immortal 'cause we say it's immortal."

"Oh."

That was an interview with the chairman of the Royal Yachtclub of the Canadian Thinking Society Inc. (Restricted Membership).

On the other side we interviewed a man at random on the street. "Yep, I'm in favor of a ban," said the man at random. "Best we should put a ban on wimmin wearin' shorts which hadn't oughta be seen dead in 'em fer various reasons. Let only the pretty girls wear 'em, I say. Brightens up the community."

The man at random, of course, doesn't think.

The dominion bureau of statistics asks the farmer to report his crop and stock. This report is confidential. As we see it, this report from the farm can be of no use to the farm people.

We can see how industry can, from the farm statistics report, figure out how many new machines may be needed to take off the crop. Labor could figure out what man hours are needed to move the new crop. Wholesale people could figure the amount of each crop and set the price.

The newspaper reports large crops and the public expects a lower consumer price. Business in Canada depends on our year's crop. The farmer never gets the benefit of a large supply of overalls or farm machines in the form of a lower price. How very foolish to even think that industry would load the market with a surplus. That would be very poor business.

Hog producers are asked each quarter to fill in a report of how many sows were bred. From this report it is figured out how many pigs will be marketed each quarter. Here again we cannot see any benefit to the producer. These reports are fairly accurate. It is interesting to watch hog prices and their relation to the statistics on pork in cold storage and the estimated marketing of hogs for each quarter. These things may only just happen and again they may be made to happen. One quarter there were reported a larger number of hogs to be marketed. For some reason these extra hogs did not come on the market. The price was down alright but had to be put up again.

There are many reasons why sometimes the statistic on hog marketing is wrong. A drop in the price of pork may cause the farmer to put over the scale bred sows, or the price of feed may go up. The sows may have bad luck with their young. There may be some benefit in government statistics but how the farm people could make use of this report, we don't know.

It will do the farmer no good to know how many tons of meat there are in cold storage. To produce meat takes a breeding program from one to three years. If the statistics branch gives a report of a large cut of timber that does not mean the farmer is going to buy lumber cheaper. There may be some farmers that have worked out a system that could make use of statistics. We do know that some farmers watch very closely the crops of farmers who are running close to the wind. And when these people need money, buy their stock in at a discount. At least it does take some ability to even do this: to drive a hard bargain when the other fellow is hard up. This and farm mortgage is what some farmers call business; both are sure things and there is no chance work.

If some of these farm businessmen want to try out how good they are at business they could get into the marketing scheme of farm produce and match their ability against some of the paid brains that handle our farm produce. The proof that you are smart is to be able to compete with smart people. It is no credit to anyone to take advantage of someone that does not know the prices or is in a corner and must sell. Cheerio.

An Aurora Opinion

DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

The fate of Korea and what effect it may have on the peace of the world is still a matter of conjecture. The battle field which seems a million miles from Aurora could in a matter of hours make even larger and blacker headlines than it has during the past ten days. If the U.N. fails, the war now at such a safe distance, would quickly be practically on our own doorstep.

We have all played ostrich and tried to hide our heads in the sands of post war prosperity. We doubt if there is an intelligent person over 18 who does not realize the grave possibility of another world conflict, yet too few are willing to face the necessity of preparedness. We are quick to criticize the government for spending $30,000 on renovating the local armory without first analyzing the need for an up-to-date building equipped with modern training facilities. Military training is not compulsory in Canada, but this nation does provide an opportunity for every young man over 17 to participate in a training program that will prove invaluable to him no matter what type of work he may choose by which to earn his daily bread.

The parents of this community have discouraged their boys from joining the reserve army, represented locally by the Queen's York Rangers. They choose to ignore the fact that if war broke out tomorrow their lads would be called at once. What a bewildering experience active service can be for a teen-ager without any previous military training. Parents have not realized the beneficial merits offered by the reserve units.

We all have a horror of the uniform. To most of us it represents sorrow and heartache.

Few parents of today's 18-year-olds have been able to wipe out the memories of two world wars. But why refuse to take a realistic view of the present world picture? Why discourage rather than encourage the lads joining up? Surely past history has proved that it is the rookies that head the casualty lists, youngsters without training or any previous military experience.

A soldier in the reserve army has nothing to lose and everything to gain. He is taught to service and shoot the weapons that are essential in time of war, both for his own protection and for that of his country. He is paid for every hour he spends at the armory, summer camp, field schemes or church parade. He learns to be immaculate about his person, to carry himself well and to accept discipline and criticism.

The chief argument a parent puts up when a boy expresses the wish to join is that the reserve army is the first on the march in case of war. They are only kidding themselves if they believe that by keeping a boy out of the reserve army they can keep him out of uniform forever. Even if there was never the remotest possibility of another war in the world's history, a period spent under military discipline is the finest training a boy can have to become a man.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perry and family, Toronto, were at their Keswick Beach cottage over the weekend.

Mrs. John Van Norman passed away at York County hospital, Newmarket, on Monday. She was formerly Marilla Marritt, daughter of the late John Marritt of Keswick, and leaves one daughter, Roslyn Van Norman, and one sister, Miss Lynn Marritt.

After her marriage they resided at Shanty Bay near Barrie but moved back to Keswick after her husband's death. She leaves many good friends here who sympathize deeply with her daughter and relatives in their loss. Interment was in Queensville following service at 2:30 Wednesday, July 5, in the Strasler Chapel.

ZEPHYR

Rev. A. F. Bamford preached his farewell sermon on Sunday prior to his departure for his new charge at Dunbarton. There was a large audience to hear Mr. Bamford, showing the high esteem in which he was held, both as a minister in the United church and as a member of our community. Mrs. Bamford has not had good health while in our midst but was always willing to do what she was able to help with any of the church activities.

Their daughter, Muriel, went as a missionary to India but was recalled because of her mother's ill health. Muriel's position as a missionary in our midst was always a real inspiration to the missionary effort in the United church.

Mrs. A. B. Lockie spent the weekend at St. Mary's and attended a golden wedding celebration at London, Ont.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Herb Tate is confined to his bed because of ill health. We do hope for a speedy recovery during this busy season of the year.

The Zephyr public school annual picnic was held at Jackson's Point on Friday. All report a good time.

The annual decoration services of the Zephyr cemetery were to be held at the cemetery on Sunday afternoon but owing to the inclement weather, the services had to be held in the United church.

Come to the big annual Sports Day, Zephyr Community Park, on Saturday afternoon and evening, July 8. Good sports, good music, lucky draws, contests and sports of all kinds.

A MESSAGE TO 1950 GRADUATES

THE SKYWAY TO SUCCESS

Like many other young Canadians you may be facing the problem of deciding on the career or profession you will follow.

You want to select the one for which you are best fitted, and the one that offers you most of the things we all desire.

... you want a career that you can put your heart into because you enjoy it ...

... a field where you will have ample scope for your initiative ...

... real possibilities for advancement in earnings and position ...

... facilities for self-improvement by study and recreation ...

... a pension or gratuity at the end of your service.

Thousands of young men of high calibre are today enjoying these advantages in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Your selection of a career is an important decision. Have a talk with an R.C.A.F. Career Counsellor. You will find his friendly advice valuable whatever you decide—and, of course, you consult him without any obligation.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

More than one family spent a damp, very uncomfortable weekend at their summer cottage as the weather failed to keep in step with the dates. Schools closed, factories and many businesses shut down for a week's duration, everything was set for the mass migration to the lake shores and what happened . . . it rained and then it rained some more.

With the storage compartments and back seats of their cars filled to capacity many motorists carried their bedding, mattresses, etc., in open trailers. They made a dismal sight as they passed the house limp and saturated in Friday's rain. Someone would be asking, "Is it worth it?" we bet before that first weekend was over.

It takes more than a few showers to dampen the enthusiasm of the small fry. The summer holidays stretch before them invitingly. What difference if it does rain today, there is tomorrow and the next day and oh, so much time to run and play. "We don't need to come in, Mom, for we're all wet anyway," they shout as they continue the important ball game regardless of the heavy shower.

Welcome additions have been made on the Davis Dr. speedway this week with the erection of some traffic signs. Designating that section as a 30-mile speed zone, the signs are a result of co-operative actions between the township council and concerned parents in the district. Congratulations are extended to these parties.

As we have mentioned on other occasions, the situation regarding the policing and upkeep of this road is very complex. For more time than we care to remember, various officials have "passed the buck", in the good old army style so that nothing was done about the excessive speeding on the townline. The property on the south side of the road lies within the town and on the north side is in East Gwillimbury twp. The road itself is maintained by the Toronto and York County Roads Commission. So you can readily see what confusion could result from such a set-up. However, with the erection of the new signs on the township side of the road, it should be possible to keep the speeding down to a minimum.

The total of traffic fatalities over the holiday weekend was appalling. But, when you have occasion to travel on one of the congested king's highways during such a rush period you wonder why the rate isn't higher. There is such a gross disregard for safety rules. Courtesy and Yonge St. traffic are strangers to one another.

We had to make the trip from Toronto to Newmarket on Friday during the height of holiday traffic and felt that we had aged years from the ordeal. Impatient drivers rushed to beat the lights. Others swung out into the third lane even with a string of cars before them, disregarding the question of where they would Give first reading To fire prevention law

The regular monthly East Gwillimbury council meeting was held in Sharon Hall July 1. The members were all present.

The August meeting will be held on Monday, Aug. 7, instead of Saturday due to the Queensville Sports Day on Saturday, Aug. 5.

The Dominion Bank's tender on the East Gwillimbury 3 1/2 percent bonds was accepted at $102 and $101.25.

The clerk was instructed to notify the Department of Planning and Development to approve of the French and Osborne plans without delay.

Warning is given to the people who carelessly let their dogs run at large. During the month of June $332 has been paid for sheep killed by dogs. The running at large of dogs between sunset and sunrise is prohibited and sheep owners are permitted to shoot a dog at any time on property where sheep are habitually kept, the dog is not under proper control.

Concession 2 from Newmarket to the Sharon, Holland Landing road will be closed to through traffic due to repairing the swing bridge at the canal by the Dominion Government.

By-law for the prevention of setting of fires on roads, and grass and brush fires on private property was given first reading.

Thirty-mile per hour traffic signs are being erected on Davis Drive within the town limits on East Gwillimbury side.

The following accounts were passed for payment: sheep claims, $332; hospital, $81.45; telephone $59.60; relief, $465.80; roads; pay list, $492.25; vouchers, $1,792.02.

Family surprises parents With birthday party

Mr. Geo. W. Baker of Church St., Newmarket, has been spending much of his time the last two weeks with his son-in-law, Harvey Houch, of Cashel, sixth con., Markham, building a dam which makes a big improvement to the site. It is built on the north-east side of the farm house where the creek winds around the lovely shade trees. A cottage was built there last summer.

The pond is about 40 ft. wide at the dam and 40 rods long. The dam is built of cement, 30 ft. wide, and has a waist gate, 14 ft. On July 1, Mr. and Mrs. Baker had the surprise of their life when the family had a reunion and it turned out to be a birthday party for them. They

Aurora girls whitewash Bradford 14-0 Thursday

Aurora Ladies' Softball club is grouped with Schomberg, Elgin Mills and Bradford in one division of the North York Ladies' Softball League. The Aurora gals had little trouble Thursday subduing Bradford 14-0 at the Aurora town park. Phyllis McKinnon recorded an amazing string of 14 strike-outs in putting the win across. All the Aurora gals had at least one hit to boast about.

Elgin Mills will be the visitor at Aurora tonight (Thursday). Aurora: L. Case c, P. McKinnon p, V. Bulpitt lb, A. Wisznar 2b, B. Rose ss, G. Mike 3b, B. Knowles lf, E. Marinoff cf, B. Mike rf.

Nobleton wins 11-4 Over 'Berg Sodbusters

Schomberg "Sodbusters" got one of their postponed games in the York-Peel League on the record books Monday when Nobleton pashed the Sodbusters 11-4. Nobleton got to work early on Doug Brown's hurling and were never behind.

Schomberg lacked both their usual hustle and hitting power and could only splice four runs together. Two of these were supplied by home run smashes that Murray Edwards unleashed. Gord. Broad on the Nobleton hill pitched steady ball to win the decision.

It was Schomberg's fourth loss of the season. They have three wins and a tie, and one game to play, that a postponed feature with Woodbridge, that will be run off Friday at Schomberg Park under the lights.

Schomberg: D. Flynn c, D. Brown p, D. Palmer lb, A. Stevenson 2b, L. Bell ss, M. Edwards 3b, A. Dale lf, R. Lipsett cf, D. Acheson rf.

They were presented with two canopy top lawn chairs. Family friends and relatives from Stouffville, Toronto and Delhi were there. A happy time was enjoyed by all. After a good supper, photos were taken, music was supplied by Murray Baker with his recorder. One record was a duet by Mr. and Mrs. G. Baker. They finally decided it was a good place to spend the summer considering the hospitality, convenience, good care and Jersey milk, etc. Friends will find them in the cottage by the pond.

Nuggets from behind For 14-9 victory

Elgin Hasting's Schomberg Nuggets racked up their fifth win in the North York Softball League, rolling to a 14-9 win over Langstaff under the lights at Schomberg park Tuesday. The visitors had a 9-0 lead after four frames, going to work on starting pitcher Don Marchant in earnest in the fourth for six runs. That got Ken Ellison on the scene and he stopped Langstaff cold. The visitors couldn't beg, borrow or steal a run from there on.

With the nine-run deficit staring them in the face, the Nuggets got busy. They plated two runs in the fourth and pulled up within a run of tying it in the sixth with a six-run scoring spree chief factor being Don Marchant's triple with two on. Another six runs in the seventh, and Schomberg had the game bagged. All the Nuggets were in a hitting mood once they solved Sonny Charles' pitching in the fourth.

Thisistown is the visitor of Schomberg next Tuesday. At present Nuggets have five wins and seven losses on the books.

Homer with two on Ties Mt. Albert girls

Newmarket junior ladies and Mount Albert battled to an 8-8 tie Tuesday in a Lake Simcoe softball game. Reg Ball's junior lassies were trailing Mount Albert 8-5 in the last of the seventh. One out, Jean McDonald walked, Joan Quinn singled and Barbara Shropshire hit a home run smash down the right field line to tie up the ball game. Lois Gibson followed this up with a hit, scooted around to third. Marg Green on the Mount Albert mound struck out Isobel Rogers and Shirley Cameron to end the game 8-8.

Newmarket looked well on its way with three in the first and single runs in the third and fourth. Mount Albert cracked through for two runs in the third then applied what appeared to be the crusher as it found Darlene Stuffles on Newmarket mound for a flock of hits, batting all the way around for six runs. Then our gals had to stage that gallant rally to tie it.

In the hit department Joan Quinn led with four, Darlene Stuffles eased her pitching burden with two. Jean McDonald and Glenna "Smiler" Woodhouse provided the main fielding dishes in the infield. Ila Bertolin, who pitched the first five innings for the visitors, drove out three hits with Bertha Crone a step behind with two.

50TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED BY AURORA COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Woods and daughter of Williamsburg entertained Mr. Woods' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Woods of Aurora on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary on June 20. The turkey dinner was beautifully served and enjoyed by all. After the dinner their children presented them with a lovely new family Bible edged in gold, in honor of this happy event. In reply of thanks and appreciation, the parents wished their children and granddaughter many happy years reading this beautiful Book when it is passed on to them. The happy couple had a wonderful ten-day vacation. They visited Ottawa and Cornwall and the Longue Sault Rapids and Sheiks Island and Sault Park. They also visited Fort Wellington and vicinity at Prescott, the log house, the original home of Colonel Jessup, founder of Prescott. There they were shown the beautiful scenery of old relics. They also saw through the rooms of this three-story stone building.

They also visited the little blue Church of England which was built in 1790 and the monument of Miss Barbara Heck, founder of Methodism in Canada. She was born in 1734 and died in 1804. They were also shown through the largest barn of Jersey cattle, over 100 Jersey cows, 70 milking. The remainder of their vacation was spent in fishing and on Sunday, they attended the United church, returning to their home in Aurora on Friday, June 30.

Invitation to good eating

Now is the time when favorite summer fruits appear in the limelight... raspberries, cherries, strawberries, blackberries and blueberries. Each of these is an invitation to good eating and makes desserts no problem for the busy housewife.

When buying, select firm, well-ripened, brightly colored berries and try to use them without delay. However, if they must be stored, a refrigerator or other cool place will help to retain their freshness. Remember too that strawberries should be washed before hulling. Much precious juice is lost if they are hulled before washing.

Strawberry shortcake is of course the old standby for a family treat but too often the housewife forgets the many new and varied recipes using berries. Small strawberry fritters made of the whole berries are something to dream about and would be wonderful for a summer wedding reception. Berry pies are a welcome dessert at any time. Another eye-appealing berry treat is a jelly roll in which fresh berries are used in place of jam or jelly. A fresh berry sherbert is cool and colorful. In a jellied salad fresh berries are a welcome addition and raspberries served with cottage cheese and placed on a crisp green lettuce leaf pleases any appetite. For a sandwich which has a piquant flavor and an interesting color combination try crushed strawberries on top of cream cheese in a fresh brown bread sandwich and seconds will certainly be in order.

STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM

1/2 tsp. gelatine
2 tsp. cold water
1 egg yolk well beaten
1/2 cup water
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 1/4 cups strawberries
1 cup table (coffee) cream
1 egg white
2 tsp. sugar

Soak gelatine in cold water for five minutes, dissolve over hot water. Combine thoroughly the egg yolk, 1/2 cup sugar, salt, vanilla, strawberries, dissolved gelatine and cream. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until firm. Turn frozen mixture into a chilled bowl, beat until smooth and fluffy. Fold in meringue made from the egg white and the 2 tsp. sugar. Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm. Yield: six servings.

ST. JAMES, STROUD

SCENE OF WEDDING

Mixed spring flowers and standards of spirea formed the setting in St. James United church, Stroud, on June 14, for the marriage of Jeannine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Wright, Stroud, and Mr. Aubrey E. Smith, son of Mrs. Smith, Newmarket, and the late Mr. Robert C. Smith. Rev. F. G. Morris performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Gordon Mason, cousin of the bride, was organist, and Miss Clara Trivett, aunt of the groom, was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowning in white embroidered nylon over taffeta, her fingertip veil held by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses and white carnations. Mrs. Robert Mercer, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, in mauve faille taffeta, carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. Miss Bertie Mulholland, in embossed yellow nylon carrying a bouquet of Brian Cliff roses, was bridesmaid. Mr. John Palmateer, cousin of the groom, acted as groomsmen and ushers were Mr. Robert B. Smith, brother of the groom, and Mr. Glendon Wright, brother of the bride.

The reception was held at Robindale Inn, Barrie, where Mrs. Wright received in starlight blue faille with black accessories and corsage of Talisman roses, assisted by Mrs. Smith in grey faille with black accessories and corsage of Brian Cliff roses. For travelling to northern Ontario and Ottawa, the bride wore navy blue, white accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Newmarket. Guests were present from North Bay, Toronto, Caledonia, Leaside, Newmarket and Barrie.

COMPLETES FIRST YEAR

Miss Isobel Cody, Reg. N., formerly of Newmarket, has successfully completed her first year in Arts and Public Health at the University of Toronto. After spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Cody, Mount Albert, she has returned to Toronto to do special duty nursing for the summer.

The Common Round...

RECITALS

What a host of memories that word calls up—of hard work, pleasure, pain, dismay, forebodings and fears—the last two, within and without—for teacher and pupil share these equally. I should hardly say equally, for the pupils only fear for themselves—the teacher for all!

Looking back at the recitals which my pupils gave annually in Brockville I can recall funny things and maddening things like once when a girl was playing a violin solo and forgot to tighten her bow. I was playing her accompaniment, so couldn't see her very well and wondered what on earth was wrong, until she stopped abruptly, making me think she had fainted or died or something equally terrible, instead of which she said calmly, "Give me A please", and continued with an aplomb which I envied but could not emulate.

Then two little girls were playing a duet and I held my heart for they got faster and faster and I heard one of them say, "Slow up!" and the other reply, "I can't, I can't! If I do I'll stop and never start again!"

I could sympathize for the first recital at which I ever played is as fresh in my memory as if many moons had not waxed and waned since then. I always thought my teacher hadn't much sense or was unduly optimistic for she insisted that I play Moszkowski. I think it was a waltz. I played the introduction, then I played it again and in fact gave the amazed and I hope sympathetic audience four introductions before I began the waltz which I fancy I played in a way that would make the composer turn in his grave, being thoroughly demoralized—me, not him!

But at the recital the other half of the family and I attended the other evening—that of the pupils of Mrs. George Wood at the Pine Orchard Union church, none of these things happened. Against a background of glowing flowers, seven girls and two men—one of them very young, gave us an evening of real pleasure. Those taking part were the Misses Jeanine Paynter, Mary Sheridan, Betty Brilling, Patsy Dunn, Jean Rose, Beth Johnston, Dorothy Brilling, Mr. Rowland Modde, Aurora, assisting artist, and Master Verne Hutchinson. Mr. Harold Modde, minister of the church, introduced the young artists and paid tribute to the help Mrs. Wood has given in her capacity as pianist.

The program consisted of piano solos, duets, two vocal solos, "Keep on Hoping" and "To a Hilltop" by Patsy Dunn, and two tenor solos, "Where'er You Walk" and "If with all Your Hearts" by Mr. Modde, who also gave two habanera selections by Drummond which were delightful.

Between parts one and two, Verne Hutchinson made a neat little speech and presented Mrs. Wood with a beautiful brooch, a token, said Verne, of her pupils' affection and appreciation. Repeating, Mrs. Wood spoke of the satisfaction there was in working with children, instilling in young minds and hearts something not alone of today or tomorrow, but for eternity. In addition to Mr. Modde's habanera numbers, Beth Johnston read the beautiful interpretation of the Shepherd Psalm which was in a late Reader's Digest.

Mrs. Wood's pupils, from the youngest to the oldest, showed a mastery of technique, a sense of tone color and the feeling for interpretation. This was especially true, naturally, of the older pupils and made Archie and I glad that the beautiful art of piano playing is not dying out as it seemed in danger of doing when radio first came into being. We are only sorry that we could not attend the other recitals which have been given lately, especially that of our good friend, Mrs. Blackwell, but in closing, I want to congratulate Mrs. Wood and her pupils and Mr. Modde on giving us an evening of real pleasure, for growth, whether it be of a flower or a talent, is a lovely thing to see and here we saw young pilgrims advancing to the wonderful world of music land with a growing appreciation of the greatness of their goal.

Oak Ridges News

A Manitoba Flood Relief ball game at King Memorial Park netted $91 on Tuesday night. The benefit softball game between King and Consolidated Press, Toronto, was sponsored by the Oak Ridges Lions Club. Final score was 11-10 for King.

The total Lions Club funds for Winnipeg relief now stands at $150. The club is bringing the game fund up to $100 with a donation. Previously the club raised $50 for the fund. Funds are being turned over to the Winnipeg Lions club treasurer by the Oak Ridges club.

The game was umpired by Fleming Makell and Syd Smith of the National Hockey League ball club. Both clubs and their captains were entertained at a buffet luncheon at Ridge Inn after the game. Charles Stephenson, president of the Lions club, spoke on behalf of the club. He thanked the teams for their voluntary effort for the flood fund.

Ted Hird pitched for Consolidated Press. Clarke Archibald and Phil Hobson were pitchers for the King team which is in the Peel-York league. It is expected that there may be a return game in Toronto.

Dance-Carnival to Aid Lions
For two nights, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 11 and 12, a dance Ridges Lions club will be held on the school grounds in the evening. Wholesome games of chance, refreshment booth and ball game will feature the first project of this type undertaken by the Lions since their organization a few months ago. Proceeds will be devoted to Lions community effort. Among these is the newly organized softball team captained by Tom Hulme. Present coaching is being done by Lions members, sec. Gordon Rowe, R. Austin and others. It is hoped the ball team will affiliate with a league.

festivity. Sponsored by the recreational committee of the Home and School Association, Messrs. Gourlay and Houten have supervised and directed the activity of the club during the school term greatly to the satisfaction of the parents of young people who have enjoyed the weekly event. There have been as many as 60 attending on many occasions. Membership cards have been issued to a large number, others attending paying a nominal fee. The group has "paid its way" and has also raised $25 for the Winnipeg Flood Relief Fund.

Through the kindness of Dr. Donald Gunn, whose daughter, Catherine, formed one of the club, the use of his power amplifier with loud speakers for record playing solved the problem of dance music. In appreciation of the loan, Mrs. Gunn was presented with a cup and saucer at the closing night by Bob Woolley on behalf of the group. Mr. Gourlay and Mr. Houten were given fountain pens. Their encouragement in lending aid to wholesome recreation is highly regarded in the district. Members were treated to donuts and pop. Throughout the year dance prizes were authorized by the Hop club adding interest to the evening's entertainment. Several records were added to the album. In September the club will again function.

School Sports Day
The annual sports day for pupils of Oak Ridges school organized by the teaching staff was carried out on the school grounds on June 28. Prizes for various events were handed out. The school board contributed ice cream and cold drinks.

Resigns Union S. S. 1 Post
Mrs. Sprague Troyer, secretary-treasurer for Oak Ridges school, Union S. S. 1, King and Whitchurch, has resigned from the position which she has held for the past year. While Mrs. Troyer has found the work exceedingly interesting she states home duties make it difficult to continue. Duties of the incoming official will commence on August 1. Application for the post will be open up to July 7. School Nurse Discontinues

Mrs. John Martin, school nurse for Oak Ridges, has discontinued her work carried on for the past year. She is a fully qualified public health nurse and the school section is loud in praises of her work. The results of the service to the children are fully recognized by parents, who feel the operation of the York County Health Unit would bring greater benefits to this section which has voted for the entry of King twp. into the health unit.

Mr. John Martin, principal of Oak Ridges school, is taking a course in connection with his work.

Office Built
An office is being built by James Wall, plumbing and heating contractor, on the west side of Yonge St., directly north of Langdon's garage, at Oak Ridges. Displays of various equipment will be set up. Heretofore office work has been carried on at his dwelling. A competent secretary fully acquainted with the business will transfer to the new office building.

Daughters were born at York County hospital, Newmarket, to Oak Ridges couples. On June 23, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKenna became proud parents and on June 28 Mr. and Mrs. Henry Natale rejoiced in the birth of their child.

Start to remove sand from arena for floor

There's considerable activity at the arena this week. Removal of the sand from around the pipes started Saturday morning. This is the first step in preparing the arena for a concrete floor. By Tuesday, approximately one-third of the work had been completed.

son estimated with his present crew on the job it should be completed by the end of the week. The machine supplied by Canadian Hoffman for rucking out the sand has proved a big asset but most of the work, it has been found, has to be done by hand, tedious hand labor. At noon Tuesday, vice-chairman Joe Dales of the arena commission wasn't in a position to say when actual work of pouring concrete would start.

ORCHARD TOPS LAKE LOOP IN CLOSE RUN

It's no fun to visit Pine Orchard. The Ivan Eves-Ab Boak crew celebrated another big week - put over two wins and climbed back atop the Lake Simcoe heap.

Pine Orchard 14, Zephyr 3. Orchard men sprang trap on Zephyr first, a 14-3 pasting for the Blues. Ted Tidman served a no-hitter. All Zephyr runs were via walks or errors. Harvey Preston tripled with three on in a big five-run third. Harry Brammer with triple and double and "Chick" Shropshire with three for four liked the combined offerings of Ron Kester who went three and Gord Rynard four. Outfielding of Noel and Lorne Shropshire and Noel Ash topped fielding display.

Pine Orchard 13, Hope 5. Recently Orchard fans were bemoaning loss to Hope. Revenge was sweet and now all is forgotten and forgiven. Gave Hope the business Monday 13-5. A five-all ball game until the fifth, Pine Orchard applied the crusher for six runs. Lon Ganton worked four, Elton Stickwood two and Cliff Ward one. Bob Shropshire had two doubles, Lorne Shropshire double and single, Ed Tidman homered with two on to lead winners' assault. "Bum" Cook provided extra base knock for Hope, catching up with a Tidman special for three bases with two on in the second. Mount Albert 6, Willow Beach 1.

Ken Mitchell up with a seven-hitter as Mount trimmed Willow Beach 6-1. A one to nil for Beachers to fifth. Cec McNeill had a let down and Mount carried over five runs. Elmer Paisley, Ross Draper and Lorne Rutledge had two each of ten Mount gathered. Chas. Green's triple constituted main extra base blow. Cec McNeill and Don Trivett with a pair of bingles led Beach attack. Beach lone run in fourth via hits from Don Anderson, Bruce Fairbairn, Ted Anderson and Don Trivett. Bruce Fairbairn dug down into the outfield dust to rob Harold Watts - catch of the season.

Keswick 9, Zephyr 2. Harold Smith up with six-hit mound performance as Keswick put away Zephyr 9-2. Gord Rynard on Blues' mound buzzed by Ken Hodgins for two triples with two on each time for big run producer. Claude Pollock and Al Hodgins double and single each in support of Smitty's hurling. Tom Hare up with two singles. Zephyr two runs in sixth as Clark Arnold and Ches Lunney banged out safeties and Ron Kester, playing third, singled them home. Ches Lunney only two-hit man with the Blues.

Friday's contests of Mount Albert at Queensville and Vandorf at Willow Beach rained out. Calendar for next week: July 6, Pine Orchard at Queensville; July 7, Keswick at Hope; July 7, Zephyr at Willow Beach; July 10, Mount Albert at Pine Orchard; July 11, Vandorf at Zephyr; July 12, Hope at Willow Beach.

Friday's contests of Mount Albert at Queensville and Vandorf at Willow Beach rained out.

Calendar for next week: July 6, Pine Orchard at Queensville; July 7, Keswick at Hope; July 7, Zephyr at Willow Beach; July 10, Mount Albert at Pine Orchard; July 11, Vandorf at Zephyr; July 12, Hope at Willow Beach.

Sandy Neal, Richmond Hill, last year with Newmarket, has been added to the club and is playing the best lacrosse of his career. Miller is especially high on the work of the four kids and he has one or two more about ready to toss over the boards. Mike says his club is about a month away from its best and that come the play-offs it'll be running at full steam.

Aurora 'mystery' choice For Sunday bus tour

Aurora was the terminal, on the afternoon of July 1, of one of the Gray Coach Line's "Mystery Tours" from Toronto. Nine busses brought their loads of passengers to the town, where they spent some time. The "Mystery Tours" are trips run by the coach lines during the summer months in which the destination is unknown to passengers when they start their journey.

MORRISON'S SPORTING GOODS

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor.

Well, so you're enjoying your holidays, eh? They're alright as long as they don't interfere with seeing a few ball games. We writer chappies use the lull to whip in with one or more of our pet projects.

Been blasting away at floodlights off and on for a couple of months. Thought we had that pot simmering slightly but the old horse seems to have died on our hands. Keep you reminded of it off and on until something does happen for the better. But that's off the track for this week.

When two or more guys with a keen insight into the sport picture gather for a fanning bee, more than likely topic one is: "Should Newmarket have a full time paid recreation director?" It seems we should, or so these keen-eyed chaps declare. Advantages of such a plan are as numerous as cars on the road on Dominion Day. Won't dwell on them all but in the main chief chore of a recreation director is to co-ordinate, that is keep young and old doing something in their leisure hours. Concentrates of course more on young nippers. Coaching, getting town leagues started, entering already organized leagues, supplying necessary equipment are the big items.

Early in the spring, we mentioned number of squirts scooting around town with a fielder's mitt or a trapper under their arm. What do we see today? Not any baseball action for our mittid, juvenile or juniors. No minor softball leagues to operate during the school holidays. A director could look after all these. Frank Hollingsworth kept the school baseball league operating until a couple of weeks ago and Optimists will soon sponsor four team bantam league. That still leaves the others in the cold. Several chaps around town are capable of handling the job of recreation director, especially during the summer or until an outside man could be located.

We met Mike Miller, coach of Maple Buds of the intermediate lacrosse group, at Wasaga on the holiday weekend and the genial Mike was most optimistic about his team's chances. Holdovers from other years and still playing great lacrosse are diminutive goalie Pete Rumble, Dick Taylor and Stan Foster (they both played hockey for Aurora Indians last winter). Jim Jones, Al and Gordy Orr, Roy Thompson, ace forward, and Tommy Armitage. Added to the squad are Tom Burbridge, Murray Stevenson, Ken Randle and Jimmy Paten, all of whom have played minor lacrosse in and around the Richmond Hill-King area.

Figures Woodbridge as the club to beat and smiles when he thinks of the unfruitful efforts Woodbridge made to secure the flashy Stan Foster. Crowds at Maple are averaging over 500 and will grow. Each Tuesday night you can catch a game at the Maple bowl. Woodbridge is reported as coming along nicely with its new arena, said to be costing in the neighborhood of $100,000. Last reports are that artificial ice will definitely be included in the final set-up, but will not probably be installed until 1951. The arena will, however, operate for certain this coming winter as a natural ice project.

Salt and pepper mixture: Bud Gilbey, husky Sutton hockeyist and ex-member of the Provost Corps, has been appointed to the constabulary of the northern village especially assigned to the lake area. There'll be no gang wars around Simcoe with Gilbey on the job. Cecil Brown, who hurried great ball for Newmarket camp a few years ago, is still heart and soul in the game and is tossing the big apple for Daltons in the Dovercourt loop. Johnny Shearson, Aurora, who attends St. Andrew's College and plays his golf at Aurora Highlands, made a fine showing in the Ontario minor golf tournament shooting in the low 90's in the 13-14-year-old class.

Of interest to district fans is the announcement of the appointment of Eddie Goodfellow of St. Louis Flyers as coach of Chicago Black Hawks and a direct tie-up between the two clubs. Goodfellow has a lucrative job as coach of the Flyers and is also arena manager. He is succeeded at St. Louis by Carl Voss, ex-Toronto boy, who was president of the A.H.L. It all means the Hawks are spending plenty of money to secure a winner. It may also mean that your pal, Jolt McComb, who was a standout with the Flyers for the past three years, may finally get his chance to make good in the N.H.L. and there are plenty of his friends and fans who think he can make the grade if he wants to. The Hawks and Flyers will train at North Bay this fall. Milwaukee who is also lined up with the Hawks will train at New Liskeard.

We wonder, as do the fans in these parts, what efforts are being made by the directors of Aurora and Newmarket arenas to secure professional teams to train in this neck of the woods? It's great publicity and all adds to the revenue of the rink. The local tourist homes, merchants, etc., also get a healthy increase in revenue at the same time. If anything is being done it's certainly a dark secret.

Ken Harding, who pitched sweet ball for Langstaff in other years, is now located in London, Ont., where he has opened his own advertising business. And on the subject of Langstaff pitching, it's interesting to note that speedballer Billy Bowen, who works also in the Wantles Park circuit, has allowed but eight hits in his last three games in that park, one being a one-hitter. It's to be hoped he doesn't wear himself out as he has in several seasons with too much pitching over the season.

King City continues to lead the York-Peel rural circuit led by the veteran Clarke Archibald, with Schomberg Sodabusters in second, Woodbridge third, Nobleton fourth, Portageville fifth and Kettleby sixth. There are a lot of good young softballers in the making in this fun and games league. Just as Archibald and one or two older lads are holding up the King club, scattered throughout the league are others past their prime but still full of ginger and beans who provide the spark for the machine to operate. We particularly refer to 42-year-old Cliff Graham who catches for Schomberg, and Gordy Broad who hurls for Nobleton. Graham, one of Canada's greatest speed skaters, sponsors the Sodabusters whose average age is in the early 20's although Lorne Fell, the shortstop, is only 16 and "Mert" Edwards, the third sacker, is 17.

ERRORS COST 3-HIT GAME TO AURORA

When a guy gives out with a three-hit mound performance, you'd naturally expect he'd won himself a ball game. Not so Tuesday at Aurora. "Joint" McComb hurled a three hitter against Woodbridge and still Aurora dropped a 5-2 decision.

Errors tied the can onto McComb's neat pitching effort. Four of Woodbridge's five runs came via miscues, a walk and two in third put Woodbridge into a tie with Aurora. Then in the eighth, the visiting firemen broke the two-all tie as the Aurora fielding again cracked, this time two infield errors and a dropped fly in the outfield put another two in the kitty. Jack Kearney completed the Woodbridge scoring with a towering homer to start the ninth away. Aurora fared slightly better in the hit department, working Prosky on Woodbridge hill for six. Aurora held a 2-0 lead after two frames. Bruce McMillan scoring number one in the first on transportation supplied by Earl McDonald and Scotty McGhee. Red Castle's scratch single scored Tod Mosier in the second for Aurora's second date with the score keeper. From there on Mr. Prosky was in command.

gals made it seven in a row though. The Courtney-Vanzant side is concentrating on sister acts. Joan Bovain joined the femme ranks last week. That's three sister acts, the Osbornes, Phil and Mary, the Moore gals, Jackie and Arlene. Bovain duo of Pauline and Joan.

Calendar: Reg Ball and Geo. Watt plan another big home attraction for our Junior Ladies Tuesday. Visitors are Keswick. Don't forget Zephyr Sports Day July 8. Fun for all.
